Phone: 414.488.6006

A Wisconsin native and “Double Badger,” Sofia is driven by a passion for justice. She is excited to begin her legal career in litigation and eager to dive into the fray by focusing on our commercial litigation, personal injury, and class action practice areas. Whether she’s fighting for individuals in personal injury cases, tackling complex commercial litigation issues, or drafting up new class actions, Sofia is a valuable addition to our team and will be an unwavering advocate for our clients’ interests.

Though in the early stage of her career, Sofia comes to the firm with valuable experience. While in law school, Sofia served as a judicial intern for the Chief Justice of the Wisconsin Supreme Court, a prosecutorial intern for the Milwaukee District Attorney’s Office, an extern for the Madison City Attorney’s Office, and a leading member of the Wisconsin International Law Journal. Through these experiences—in addition to her stellar academic performance—she was able to learn and hone the skills she’ll need to be an advocate for clients and help navigate the challenges they face.

Outside Interests

When she’s not in the office or courtroom, Sofia loves to explore new culinary delights, whether by trying out new recipes or visiting the latest restaurants. An outdoor enthusiast, she enjoys staying active and can often be found playing tennis or running outside during the beautiful Wisconsin summers.
